FOREWORD

The "USAF Statistical Digest" summarizes the great volume of statistical information collected and published by the various offices in USAF Headquarters and certain Air Force Commands. The more important data on the many activities and operations of the USAF are brought together on a uniform basis to serve as an official and basic reference manual.

The Jan 1949-Jun 1950 "USAF Statistical Digest" is the fifth edition of the publication series. Original editions - Army Air Forces Statistical Digest (World War II) and Supplement Number 1, 1945 were followed by AAF Statistical Digest, 1946 and USAF Statistical Digest, 1947. The 1946 and 1947 editions made available Air Force statistics in summarized form as far back as available, with the exception of Combat Operations. The latter data is found only in the 1945 editions. The 1948 issue was the first strictly annual publication. The present edition has been organized on a Fiscal Year basis and historical continuity may be accomplished by referring to the previous publications. Many new tables have been added on data which have become available during the preparation of this issue. An effort has been made to cover all phases of the Air Force activities for which this publication is the official statistical yearbook in accordance with AFR 5-24, 20 September 1948. (See Page IV).

To facilitate the use of this volume it has been divided into the following major parts, each covering a specific phase of USAF activity:

1. Tactical Units
2. Personnel (Military and Civilian)
3. Training (Military and Civilian)
4. Medical
5. Flying Safety and Ground Safety
6. Aircraft and Materiel
7. Aircraft Engines and Propellers
8. Flight Operations
9. Transportation
10. Installations
11. Research and Development
12. Fiscal
13. Stockpiling
14. Mutual Defense Assistance Program
15. USAF Reserve (USAF Reserve and Air National Guard), Reserve Officers Training Corps, Civil Air Patrol, and Explorers
16. Civil Relief Type Operations

The tables in each part are preceded by introductory statements giving some indication of the character of the data presented which follows the formats of past issues, and introducing new topics which appear for the first time. Immediately preceding these tables is the Glossary - a collection of terms and definitions - which are applicable to this issue.

Sources of the majority of the data are the many published and unpublished records of the Statistical Services. (Such data bears no source indication). The tabulations which were furnished by other offices are annotated as to source.

It is recommended that historical copies be carefully preserved for future references as supplies are limited.

Suggestions for future editions of the Digest should be addressed to Director of Statistical Services, Headquarters USAF, Washington 25, D. C.

GLOSSARY

ACCIDENT, AIRCRAFT

An event, involving one or more military aircraft, that occurs while the aircraft is engaged in any phase of aerial flight including takeoff and landing runs, taxiing, or while the aircraft is on the ground and power plant is in operation (except maintenance operation - servicing, repair, etc) and which results in death or injury to persons or damage to the aircraft.

MAJOR AIRCRAFT ACCIDENT

An accident which results in death or major injury to persons or major damage to the aircraft. Major injury is that which will probably require hospitalization for a period of five or more days or results in unconsciousness, factures (except simple finger or toe fractures), lacerations of muscles, or which cause hemorrhages, internal lesions and burns involving more than five percent of body surface, or involving less than five percent if to the second or third degrees. Major damage includes damage to such parts of the aircraft as landing gear, wings, fuselage, stabilizers and power plant to the extent that the part must undergo major repair or be replaced.

MINOR AIRCRAFT ACCIDENTS

An accident which results in minor injury to persons or minor damage to the aircraft. Minor injury is less severe than major injury as defined above and requires that military personnel be reported on the daily sick report as sick in quarters or hospital, or in the case of civilian personnel, less of regular working time beyond the work-day on which the accident occurred. Minor damage is such damage as to make the aircraft unsafe for flight but not damage so great as to be classified major damage as defined above.

CIVIL RELIEF OPERATION

This type operation is described as one which would necessitate any command or units of a command to divert normal activities and functions to a special operation for the specific purpose of civil relief.

CLASSIFICATION OF AIRCRAFT

The classification of aircraft is in accordance with AFR 65-60, dated 9 May 1941, Aeronautical Board Memorandum, dated 21 October 1947, and the latest AF Technical Orders. The type classification is generally based upon the basic type designator or the prefix preceding the basic type designator of each aircraft model.

Basic Type Designator

Aircraft are assigned a basic type designator in accordance with the function for which they are basically designed. This basic type designation consists of one letter as follows:

A	Amphibious
*B	Bomber
*C	Cargo
*F	Fighter
*G	Glider
H	Helicopter
*L	Liaison
*Q	Target Aircraft and Drones
*R	Reconnaissance
*S	Search and Rescue
*T	Trainer
X	Special Research or Experimental

* To be used as prefix symbols as required.

 To be used as a classification symbol as required.

Prefix Symbols. When an aircraft is modified to perform a function other than its basically designed function, the basic type designator will be prefixed by the appropriate auxiliary symbol. The prefix symbols listed below are used only when an aircraft is so modified that its originally intended usage is no longer applicable.

Prefix "C" is used to designate aircraft specifically modified for cargo use.

Prefix "D" is used to designate those aircraft which are modified to function as director aircraft in conjunction with remotely controlled aircraft or guided missiles.

Prefix "K" is used to designate all aircraft modified as "in flight" refueling tankers.

Prefix "L" is used to designate aircraft modified for liaison missions.

Prefix "M" is used to designate aircraft modified for use as missiles.

Prefix "Q" is used to designate aircraft modified through the inclusion of special electronic equipment for use as targets or drones.

Prefix "R" is used to designate aircraft which have been so modified as to make them suitable for photo or electronics reconnaissance missions.

Prefix "S" is used to designate aircraft modified through the inclusion of special search electronic equipment, life rafts, etc.

Prefix "T" is used to designate those aircraft which have had equipment removed to make them more suitable for training purposes, and aircraft which have been modified through the inclusion of special training equipment.

Prefix "V" is used to designate aircraft which are modified as staff administrative transports.

CLASSIFICATION SYMBOLS - Aircraft may have any one of the following classification symbols where applicable:

Classification "E" is used to designate aircraft on special tests or experimental projects.

Classification "X" is used to designate experimental aircraft and indicates that the item being developed has not progressed to the stage where engineering tests indicate that the item is sufficiently satisfactory to warrant service tests.

Classification "Y" is used to designate aircraft which have the required military characteristics and are of a quantity produced to develop the potentialities of the model. This classification indicates the item has been developed beyond the experimental stage, but is not ready for classification as an adopted item.

Classification "Z" is used to designate aircraft which are considered by the Chief of Staff, USAF, to be obsolete.

CLASS 01Z-AIRCRAFT

Complete aircraft used for ground instructional purposes.

COMBAT AIRPLANE

TABLE I.-- ACTIVATED TACTICAL GROUPS AND SEPARATE SQUADRONS BY TYPE

(Statistics on the number of tactical groups and separate squadrons presented in this table include only those units which were actually activated and/or organized prior to or on the dates shown; i.e., units which have been actually activated and/or organized, and for which inactivation or disbandment orders had not been actually accomplished by the dates shown. Tactical units are listed by the number of group headquarters and squadrons of Bomber, Fighter, Reconnaissance, and Troop Carrier types and also by the number of separate squadrons of Photographic Reconnaissance (Special), Liaison, Rescue, Geodetic, and Tow Target types. Figures within the parentheses represent the numbers of squadrons of the type corresponding to the group. Activated Units presented in this table include Record Units.)

PERSONNEL - MILITARY AND CIVILIAN

The data presented in this part of the "USAF Statistical Digest" are based on audited factual personnel statistical data of the Directorate of Statistical Services, Hq. USAF, unless otherwise indicated by source. Tables include data for the eighteen month period - January 1949 through June 1950 unless otherwise noted. Generally, the reporting periods shown are quarterly rather than monthly as reported in previous editions.

Throughout the various personnel tables, the terms Worldwide, Continental US, and Overseas are used to denote a generalized geographical location of strength. Definitions of such terms and others affecting this part of the publication may be found under "Glossary" see pages XVI through XXVI. Command changes made during this reporting period and affecting both Military and Civilian Personnel may also be found in the Glossary.

A - Military Personnel

The contents of this part of the book are arranged mainly in the alphabetical order of the sections - the sections being further divided by tables set up in numerical order.

Tables in this part include only those military personnel on extended active duty. Reserve Forces personnel data are to be found in Part XV.

The Recruiting Activities and Miscellaneous Sections of Military Personnel presents several new tables such as:

Table 34A - "Aviation Cadet and Officer Candidate School Prospects Interviewed and Passed by Recruiting Service Project Officers at Army Areas;"

Table 36 - "Classification Test Scores of USAF Male Enlistees;"

Table 42 - "Strength to be used in Computing Offense Rates;"

Table 49 - "USAF Enlisted Returnees (Without Dependents) By Date of Arrival from Overseas;"

Table 50 - "USAF Enlisted Returnees (Without Dependents) Who Volunteered for Immediate Return to Overseas Duty;"

Table 51 - "USAF Military Decorations and Awards;" and

Table 52 - "Medical Air Evacuation of Military Personnel By Military Air Transport."

Table 42 is shown because Offense rates are no longer based on the assigned strength shown under Military Personnel. (See headnote of the above mentioned table).

No table comparable to Special Table - "Navy Personnel Attached to MATS for Duty" page 87 of the 1948 "USAF Statistical Digest" will be found in this issue.

B - Civilian Personnel

New tables reported in this section are:

Table 54 - "Civilian Personnel Strength By State Based on Operating Location;"

Table 56 - "Civilian Personnel Strength By Citizenship Status, By Overseas Command Location;"

Table 57 - "USAF Civilian Personnel Strength in Relation to USAF Defense Civilian Personnel Strength;"

Table 61 - "Physically Impaired Civilian Personnel Employed in Continental US;" and

Table 62 - "Civilian Personnel Man Month Equivalents Employed on MDAP."

Table 62 is based on Public Law 329 - 81st Congress, Chapter 626 - 1st session enacted by the Senate and the House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled which states that this Act may be cited as the "Mutual Defense Assistance Act of 1949," to promote the foreign policy and provide for the defense and general welfare of the United States, furnishing military and civilian assistance and services to foreign nations. The table does not reflect the actual number of civilian personnel participating as the length of time may vary greatly between individuals but is based on monthly personnel equivalents. Further information on MDAP (Mutual Defense Assistance Program) activities may be found in Part XIV.

PART III .....

TRAINING

1, MILITARY

2, CIVILIAN

947437 O - 51 (Face p. 94)

TRAINING - MILITARY AND CIVILIAN

Training is divided into two major parts - Military and Civilian. However, the Military includes a very small percentage of Civilians in some of the specialized courses and for the first time they are broken out by footnotes under tables in which they are included.

A. Military School Training is divided into the following five types:

1. Air Materiel Command which includes professional education;
2. Air University which includes professional education;
3. Flying Training which includes such courses as: Pilot (Basic, Advanced, Transition, and Helicopter), Liaison, Aircraft Observer-Bombardment, Instructor, Instrument Pilot, Instructor, Fighter Gunnery, Central Instructor School (Basic, Advanced, and Aircraft observer - Bombardment), and Navigation;
4. Indoctrination which includes basic military and officer candidate; and
5. Technical Training which includes formalized training for ground maintenance personnel.

The above types of training are reported under sub titles as follows:

1. Students Under Instruction - students enrolled at the end of the reporting period;
2. Attrition - Academic or flying deficiencies, students who have been eliminated for other reasons, and fatalities. (Holdovers are not included in attrition in this or the 1948 publications as they were from May through December, 1947); and
3. Graduates - students who have satisfactorily completed the course in which enrolled.

New Students have been omitted in this issue.

Where applicable the tables are further divided to show United States Air Force, Army and Navy, Foreign Nationals, and USAF Training at Army Schools. For the first time tables are shown for USAF training at Army Schools and for female training. However, these data are included in the other figures.

For convenience in reading the tables, Negro personnel is shown in parentheses as indicated by headnotes but are also included in the "totals."

Graduates cover only those students graduating within the year with no tentative graduates included.

Omission of course numbers indicate that no students were reported for the periods (end of Quarters) covered.

B. Civilian Training Program provides for the development and training of civilian personnel to perform present duties efficiently and to meet promptly the future requirements of the United States Air Forces.

Table 80 "USAF Civilian Employee Training (By Area, By Type) in Continental United States" summarizes the number of course completions and total number of Trainee Hours "On-the-Job" and "Off-the-Job" training, by areas. The course completion figures reflect the number of course completions by employees and not the number of individuals completing training. A number of individuals completed more than one course during the year.

Statistics on the Reserve Forces (ANG, USAF Reserves), ROTC, CAP, and Explorers Training may be found in Part XV of this publication.

PART IV .....

MEDICAL

947437 O - 51 (Face p. 130)

MEDICAL

Tables under "Admissions to Medical Facilities" follow generally the outlines introduced in the previous issues of the "USAF Statistical Digest" and are reported for Continental US only.

The format for the table "USAF Hospitalization" has been slightly changed as will be noted in making comparison of the two tables found in the present issue and that of 1948.

The table on Dental Health has been expanded to cover Overseas reports. In previous reports only Continental US was included.

No comparable table for Table 141 "USAF School of Aviation Medicine" as published in the 1948 "USAF Statistical Digest" is reported under "Medical." The desired information on this phase of Training may be found under Part III - Training.

Veterinary activity tables are introduced for the first time under the following titles:

Table 86 - "USAF Veterinary Inspection Service Incident to Procurement;"

Table 87 - "USAF Veterinary Inspection Service Incident to Surveillance;" and

Table 88 - "USAF Veterinary Animal Service Summary."

TABLE 81.-- ADMISSIONS OF AIR FORCE AND ARMY ACTIVE DUTY PERSONNEL TO USAF MEDICAL FACILITIES BY CAUSE

(Admissions include direct admissions to hospitals and quarters and cases carded for record only. In the latter category are deaths and discharges for disability of personnel not patients and venereal disease cases treated on an outpatient basis. In the case of admissions for a specific disease, the number of cases may include patients among whom the specific condition was not the primary cause of admission or was discovered while the patient was being treated for other conditions. However, a patient would be counted only once under the general classifications of "All Causes", "Disease", and "Injury". Rates are per 1,000 men per year and show the number of admissions that would occur during a year if the number of cases per 1,000 in the reporting period were the same for all periods in the year. Dash (-) rates indicate rates that are too small to express.)

TABLE 86.-- USAF VETERINARY FOOD INSPECTION SERVICE INCIDENT TO PROCUREMENT

In inspecting all foods of animal origin for the US Air Force the Veterinary Services conducts the following classes of inspection:

Class 1 Antemortem

Class 2 Postmortem

Class 3 Prior to Purchase

Class 4 On Delivery at Purchase

Class 5 Any receipt except Purchase

Class 6 Prior to Shipment

Class 7 At time of Issue

Class 8 Purchase by Air Forces Exchange

Class 9 In Storage

(This table reflects the pounds of foods of animal origin inspected by the Veterinary Corps incident to procurement, 1 January 1949 to 1 July 1950. These inspections represent an estimated savings of $439,870.00 for the fiscal year 1950. However, food inspection must not be evaluated merely in terms of economy but more especially in terms of health of the Air Force.)

(This table reflects the pounds of food of animal origin inspected as issued or otherwise disposed of and the percent rejected from 1 January 1949 to 1 July 1950. Although all Air Force owned subsistence items are re-inspected many times as received, stored, shipped, and issued, each pound is included but once in this table. Subsistence is disposed of in one of two ways: i.e., by rejection and salvage incident to surveillance inspection or by issue or sale).

FLYING SAFETY

In the following pages data are presented on USAF aircraft accidents. Flying time, major accidents, phase of flight in which the accident occured, and causes of the accidents are listed for all types and models of aircraft flown.

Combat accidents during the period 25 - 30 June 1950 which occurred as a direct result of enemy action - exclusive of sabotage - are not included in this report.

Aircraft accident tables for the individual components of the USAF Reserve Forces are shown in Section

GROUND SAFETY

The Ground Safety Accident Prevention Program is based on the principle that needless waste of manpower and materials, a result of preventable accident, are unwarranted penalties that we can ill afford and that can and must be eliminated. Freedom from accidents is purchased by self-discipline and actual cooperation in the program. Only through cooperation and the concentrated efforts of each individual can the desired results be obtained.

The 1948 "USAF Statistical Digest" Vol. I, Part IV presented Ground Accident data on a quarterly basis by commands for the calendar year. Since the "cost per capita" in the 1948 issue was on a calendar year basis a special study has been made to show a comparison of fiscal years 1949 and 1950. The results are as follows:

	1 July 1948 Through 30 June 1949	1 July 1949 Through 30 June 1950	Percent ↑ or ↓ FY 1950 over FY 1949

Total losses from Ground Accidents reported on a per capita basis for fiscal 1950 shows a 12.6% increase over fiscal 1949.

The 10.1% increase in the Military Off Duty Injury Rate was offset by an 11.3% reduction in the On Duty Rate indicating only a 3.3% increase in the Total Injury Rate.

A 75.3% reduction was effected in "Cost of Other Property Damaged" in FY 1950 as compared to %6 1949. This category consists of buildings, structures, raw materials, fuels, supplies, etc.

AIRCRAFT AND MATERIEL

The tables included in this section provide summary data covering the procurement, production, inventory, status, deployment, and disposition of USAF aircraft, and similar information and other major items of materiel in the USAF from January 1949 through June 1950.

In August 1949 the method of determining line classification of aircraft was changed in accordance with HOI 150-9 dated 11 August 1949. A board of officers determined which aircraft were first and second line, after which time each first line aircraft automatically dropped to second line upon completion of its optimum turnover period as specified in Table VIII of AFL 150-9 dated 5 May 1949.

Prior to July 1949 aircraft undergoing modification were reflected in an active category, while subsequent data reflect them in inactive category. Prior to September 1949, all "Project" aircraft were considered active while subsequent to that date aircraft on non-USAF and inactive projects have been included in the inactive total.

TABLE 100-STATUS AND LINE CLASSIFICATION OF USAF AIRCRAFT

(Prior to September 1949, only the type, model and series designation determined line classification of airplanes. Beginning with September 1949, line classification is based on the first line life of airplanes, Table IX of AFL 150-10, and type, model and series. Glider aircraft were assigned to second line classification in September 1949. Excludes Reserve Forces.)

TABLE-III- USAF INDUSTRIAL EQUIPMENT RESERVE - AS OF 30 JUNE 1950

(The industrial potential, in terms of machinery and equipment for which the AF is accountable, includes about 60,000 major items of machine tools and productive equipment on loan or lease to contractors in AF plants and plants owned by contractors. This total includes 3,120 items, formerly a part of this reserve, which have been withdrawn from storage. All machines and equipment on loan or lease are now being inventoried and will be included in the Central Control Inventory at AMC.)

AIRCRAFT ENGINES AND PROPELLERS

The information contained in this section provides data on factory deliveries of military aircraft engines and propellers.

The data include number and type of engines, their unit power and average unit cost, procured by the USAF for USAF use and for the Navy, and all engines procured by the Navy for the USAF. In order to distinguish the difference in average unit cost of experimental, special test and prototype models and those models procured under usual production contracts, a separate tabulation is presented for each type of procurement, followed by a recapitulation of all factory deliveries of Jet and Reciprocating engines for the USAF.

Information on factory deliveries of propellers include the number and their average unit cost, by manufacturer and model.

Overall statistical data on the status of aircraft engines in Continental US and Overseas are presented in Tables 115, and 116.

Table Numbers 117 and 118 indicate the number of engines overhauled in Air Force depots and the average man-hours expended per major engine overhauled.

PART VIII.....

FLIGHT OPERATIONS

947437 O - 51 (Face p. 226)

FLIGHT OPERATIONS

This section provides summary data from January 1945 through June 1950 concerning USAF flying time, fuel consumption, average aircraft on hand, and average aircraft in commission. These data are arranged by type of activity, by command, and by type and model.

The "Operating Active" category consists of the operations of the active aircraft as defined in the glossary, less those in command support and project.

The "Flying Active" category reported in the third and fourth quarters of Fiscal Year 1949 is essentially the same as the "Operating Active" category; the "Other Active", as "Command Support" and "Project" combined; and the "Non Flying Active", as "Inactive".

Prior to 1 July 1945 the type of activity was determined by the actual use of the aircraft; after 1 July 1945 the type of activity by the purpose for which the aircraft were assigned.

PART IX

TRANSPORTATION

947437 O - 51 (Face p. 266)

TRANSPORTATION

Up to and including October 1948, the Department of the Army was charged with the overall responsibility of providing transportation services for the support of Air Force activities. However, certain transportation functions were performed by the Department of the Air Force. Pursuant to the Army-Air Force agreements as to the implementation of the National Security Act of 1947, and in accordance with existing procedures and practices relative to the routine utilization of carriers by either Department, the Department of the Air Force provides or secures all transportation required to support its domestic and overseas activities, except ocean transportation and the operation of water ports in the Zone of the Interior and Overseas unified commands.

Tables in this section indicate, to some extent, the transportation requirements of the Air Force and the means and facilities by which these requirements are satisfied. Ocean transportation to and from overseas was moved by Army transports or commercial vessels as indicated in Tables 125 and 126.

Table 127 presents data on shipments overseas, for the Air Force of bulk petroleum products in tankers operated under supervision of the Department of the Navy.

Tables 128 and 129 indicate the number of USAF military personnel moved by water to and from overseas.

Data in Table 130 indicate the funds required to procure commercial transportation for normal troop support, during the last two quarters of the fiscal year 1949 and fiscal year 1950. These expenses, however, do not include first destination transportation, transportation in connection with real property acquisition and construction activities; transportation incident to air combat maneuvers; transportation of organizational equipment and impedimenta in connection with troop movements; transportation for research and development activities; ocean transportation of packaged aviation petroleum oil and lubricants and cargo movements.

INSTALLATIONS

The information summarized in this section follows in general that outlined in the 1948 "USAF Statistical Digest" with a few exceptions. Due to the inability to gather some information and the discontinuance of source reports of other data some of the 1948 tables were not continued in the present publication. Tables 170 and 171 (1948) were discontinued and information on Table 176 (1948) was not made available.

The Housing tables in this publication are based on a different number of installations for the three reporting periods, 30 June 1948, 31 December 1949, and 30 April 1950. The 1948 tables reflected only one reporting period - that being the end of the calendar year.

Table 131 - "Status of Military Housing and Occupancy, By Type of Personnel" has been expanded over similar tables - Tables 172 and 173 (1948) to show Nurses, WAF Officers, and additional types of housing. This table also gives a more complete report on Overseas housing. The Housing tables do not include "Occupational Housing (Overseas)" as this type of housing was under the jurisdiction of the respective occupational forces.

Tables 167; 168; and 169 of 1948 publication were continued through 30 June 1949 in the present issue in tables 133; 134; and 135 respectively. Due to the change in the reporting system this information was consolidated in one table - Table 136 - "USAF Installations By Class and By Status: 30 June 1950."

The table on Storage - Table 137 was summarized on a near "end of quarter" basis instead of on a monthly basis as reported in 1948.

RESEARCH AND DEVELOPMENT

947437 O - 51 (Face p. 286)

RESEARCH AND DEVELOPMENT

The USAf Research and Development (R&D) Program has as its objective the development of weapons, equipment, and techniques which will provide the USAF with effective means for carryino on its three-fold mission of STRATEGIC WAR FARE, AIR DEFENSE, and the CLOSE SUPPORT of ground troops in combat.

The advent of World War II resulted in the great acceleration of research and development in the field of aeronautics and air weapons. During this period, the research and development program was administered, in the main, by the Air Materiel Command at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base.

In September 1947, the air component of the National Military Establishment was given equal status with the land and sea components by the creation of the United States Air Force. In its new status, the USAF has been cognizant of the importance of research and development in creating and maintaining a superior air force. In order to emphasize the importance of Research and Development (R&D), the Chief of Staff, USAF, appointed during 1950 a Deputy Chief of Staff for Development to direct all R&D activities within the USAF. Also during 1950 a Research and Development Command was established to administer or carry out the USAF R&D Program. This new command has gradually be assuming the R&D activities of the Air Materiel Command and active commands of the USAF and by May 1951 it is scheduled to be in full operation.

The data contained in this section have been compiled for the first time in the "USAF Statistical Digest" to preserve, for historical purposes, a record of the fiscal operations in R&D activities since July 1943.

Fiscal Year 1949 was the first year in which the USAF had its own Research and Development Budget. The data for Fiscal Years 1949 and 1950 have, therefore, been presented in greater detail to give a more complete picture of R&D fiscal operations since the inception of the USAF.

PART XII.....

FISCAL

1, BUDGET
2, PROCUREMENT
3, MISCELLANEOUS

947437 O - 51 (Face p. 296)

FISCAL

Part XII Fiscal consists of the following Sections:

Section LII - Budget

Section LIII - Procurement, and

Section LIV - Miscellaneous

The Budget Section, Tables 146 through 150, reflects the funding operations of the various Air Force appropriations and/or funds with the respective major programs for the fiscal years indicated in the title of each table. Funding activities relative to contract authority made available to the Air Corps, Army, fiscal years 1942 through 1948 and to the Department of the Air Force fiscal years 1949 and 1950 are also incorporated. Certain tables shown in the 1948 edition of the "USAF Statistical Digest" have been omitted and others have been added to conform with the new Air Force budget structure to be implemented, 1 July 1950.

The Procurement Section has been reduced in this issue to one table - Table 151 - "Final Report on Procurement" which is comparable to Table 196 in the 1948 publication. Tables relative to Research and Development are no longer assigned to the Fiscal group but are included in a special Section, Part XI, allotted to Research and Development.

Tables found under the Miscellaneous Section fall under the same subjects as those found in the 1948 publication.

TABLE 148.-- EXPENDITURES FROM 1 JAN 1949 THROUGH 30 JUN 1950 FROM APPROPRIATIONS TO USAF AND AIR CORPS, ARMY FOR FY'S 1942 THROUGH 1949

Notes: 1. These figures include "Air Corps, Army" for FY's 1942 through 1946, FY 1947 and FY 1948.
2. They exclued funds appropriated to other Army Technical Services for support of the Air Force, but which were budgeted for, accounted for, and administered by the Army.
3. They exclude FY 1950 funds due to the radically different project structure required in FY 1950, which was the first year in which the Air Force received appropriations covering all of its requirements.
4. These funds include reimbursements.
5. All figures are in thousands of dollars. Those in parentheses denote minus quantities.

The monthly report "Status of the Strategic Materials Stockpiling Program" furnishes current information required in planning for the receipt and storage of these materials.

NOTES:

1. Explanation of Columns:

Column (1) - Out of a total stockpiling storage requirement of approximately 23 million square feet open space and 12 million square feet covered space, this is the amount apportioned to the Department of the Air Force, by the Munitions Board through its Stockpiling Storage Committee (approximately 7% of the total requirement).

Column (2) - Of the total requirement apportioned to the Department of the Air Force, this is the amount already allocated or made available for the Stockpiling program. Overhead costs of storage space allocated is reimbursable from GSA stockpiling funds under provisions of AFR 67-39, 25 Jan 1950.

Column (3) - Of the amount allocated for the Stockpiling program to meet current requirements, this amount represents the storage space already occupied by strategic materials.

Column (4) - The difference between Columns (1) and (2) represents the amount to be provided for the stockpiling program through FY 1951. Storage space at the Rome, Shreveport, Topeka and Maywood Depots has been tentatively "earmarked" to meet the remaining requirements. Quantities and locations shown in this Column are subject to change.

a/ No material handled b/ Tank storage c/ Open unimproved space d/ 6600 sq ft open space occupied by Brass

e/ 9000 sq ft open space occupied by Brass f/ 500 sq ft warehouse space occupied by Brass g/ Vault Storage

MUTUAL DEFENSE ASSISTANCE PROGRAM

947437 O - 51 (Face p. 320)

MUTUAL DEFENSE ASSISTANCE PROGRAM

The Mutual Defense Assistance Act of 1949, enacted into law on October 6, 1949, authorizes the Government to extend aid, either by outright grant or on a reimbursable basis to certain friendly nations whose security must be maintained in the interests of preserving world peace.

Under Public Law 329 - 81st Congress - the Department of the Air Force is required to execute military assistance programs in accordance with approved policies including: Provision of military equipment, materials and additional military production of raw materials (which would enable a nation to increase its indigenous production of military material) and training facilities both in Zone of the Interior and Overseas.

For convenience in administering the Act, the areas of countries to which aid might be given or sold are designated as follows:

Title I - North Atlantic Treaty Countries - Belgium-Luxembourg, Denmark, France, Italy, Netherlands, Norway, Portugal, United Kingdom (Canada and Iceland, though members have not requested grant aid).

Title II - Greece, Turkey and Iran.

Title III - Phillipines, Korea (Section 301 of the Act) and the "General Area of China" (Section 303 of the Act).

With respect to Title I of the Mutual Defense Assistance Act, the Mutual Defense Assistance Program is complementary to the North Atlantic Treaty. Although the two developed separately, the Mutual Defense Assistance Program fits into the Treaty to make it stronger. The North Atlantic Treaty sets forth the principles, and provides the machinery for the development of strategic plans for the collective defense of the area. The Mutual Defense Assistance Program is the instrument by which the United States provides materials to make mutual defense a reality by supplementing the ability of the several nations to provide armaments from their own resources. Titles I, II and III countries are not only entitled to grant aid but are also entitled to reimbursable aid.

Supply action initiated under the USAF Mutual Defense Assistance Program during the FY 1950 is indicated in the following pages.

PART XV.....

USAF RESERVE (USAF RESERVE AND AIR NATIONAL GUARD), RESERVE OFFICERS TRAINING CORPS, CIVIL AIR PATROL, AND EXPLORERS.

947437 O - 51 (Face p. 328B)

RESERVE FORCES (ANG AND USAF RESERVES), ROTC, CAP, AND EXPLORERS.

The Reserve Forces of the USAF consist of Air National Guard and the USAF Reserve which are composed of personnel not on active duty. The Air Reserve Officer Training Corps, Civil Air Patrol, and Explorers, although not a part of the Reserve Forces are included in this category for reporting purposes. The objectives of these components are as follows:

1. AIR NATIONAL GUARD - To provide units capable of prompt mobilization and deployment to augment the Regular Air Force in time of war or National Emergency.

2. USAF RESERVE - To provide qualified personnel and/or units for the expansion of the Air Force in time of war or National Emergency.

3. AIR FORCE RESERVE OFFICERS' TRAINING CORPS - To provide a major source of junior officers for the US Air Force and the principal source for the USAF Reserve Forces.

4. CIVIL AIR PATROL - To train and maintain a flying organization composed of personnel who operate and maintain civilian airplanes and who are sufficiently public spirited and patriotic to contribute voluntarily in war time and in peace time their aircraft, personal time, and effort to the US Air Force.

5. EXPLORERS - In cooperation with the Boy Scouts of America the mission of this program is to assist in the general development of youth, age 14 through 17 years, in the fundamental principles of citizenship, patriotism, and leadership. As of 1 Sep 1949 members of the Senior Division of the Boy Scouts of America, formerly known as Senior Scouts, are "Explorers." One of the most important activities of the Explorer Program is the Explorer Air Encampments which are authorized to be held at Air Force installations. Flight activities are of a routine training nature, not involving special hazards and without additional expense to the government.

Aircraft data for these components previously included in another section of the "USAF Statistical Digest" are now incorporated as a section of this part.

AIR NATIONAL GUARD

The tables reflecting strength, report for Mar 1949 the strength of Federally Recognized Units plus the strength of units inspected for Federal Recognization. Federal recognition of all units was accomplished by 30 Jun 1950.

It will be noted that 30 Sep 1949 reports the loss of one unit to the state of Oregon which was regained by the report of 31 Dec 1949. Jun 1950 shows a gain of one unit each for the States of Arkansas and Georgia and 30 Jun 1949 reports the greatest authorized strength while 30 Jun 1950 reflects the greatest assigned strength for the same geographical areas.

New tables introduced in this publication are:

Table 161 - "Officer Personnel of Federally Recognized Air National Guard Units By Aeronautical Status."

Table 162 - "Civilian Personnel Technicians Employed By the Air National Guard."

USAF RESERVES

During the reporting period covered by this publication the USAF Reserves underwent a reorganization made effective, 1 Jul 1949. Some of the major changes made are as follows:

1. The Mobilization Assignee Program expanded in number of vacancies provided and was extended to include all existing major Air Force commands.

2. Corollary Units were introduced for the first time. These units were organized under the same tables of organization as the Regular Air Force Units, the parent units to which they were assigned for administration, training, and provision of equipment.

3. The USAF Reserve Units of the Air Force Training Centers, formally organized under World War II T/O&E Plan, were reorganized under the current T/O&E's. The program provided tactical aircraft for USAF Reserve training.

New tables added to this issue are:

Table 170 - "USAF Reserve Strength of Officer Personnel By Specialty Grdup Within Specialty Field."

Table 171 - "USAF Reserve Strength of Enlisted Personnel By Specialty Group Within Specialty Field."

Table 173 - "USAF Reserve Officer with Mobilization Assignment By Command."

Table 174 - "USAF Corollary Unit Strength By Command." and

Table 182 - "INACTIVE Duty Man Training Periods for Pay, FY 1950."

RESERVE OFFICER TRAINING CORPS

Table 187 - "Formally Enrolled USAF Reserve Officer Training Corps Students By Institution By Year of Course," differs somewhat from a comparable table - Table 229 in the 1946 publication in that the latter shows the institutions by Air Force and also shows a break by years for Basic and Advanced courses. Table 231 - "ROTC Students Not Formally Enrolled" as published in 1948 has not been continued in this edition.

CIVIL AIR PATROL

This section has been expanded to show "Flying Activities of Civil Air Patrol Training By State" - Table 191 and "Civil Air Patrol Training By State" - Table 192.

EXPLORERS

All Explorers are reflected in the tables of this section due to the intergrated association of the three Defense Departments in this program.

A new table, Table 197, gives a summary of the Explorer activities carried on at USAF installations.

AIRCRAFT

The tables in the Aircraft section reflect over-all current statistical facts relative to USAF Reserve Forces Aircraft, aircraft flying time, status and line classification and functional distribution of Air Force Reserve Aircraft, including USAF Reserve Forces active airplanes out of commission.

Flight Operations of Air Force Reserve and Air National Guard are presented in table numbers 204 and 205 respectively.

Table 206 deals with aircraft accidents, flying hours, and number of accidents by Air Reserve Pilots, the Air National Guard and Civil Air Patrol.

Table 201 shows the Air National Guard airplanes on hand by Air Forces area and location.

CIVIL AIR PATROL TRAINING

In August 1949 a text book, "Aviation Study Manual -- Aviation for American Youth" was published under the direction of the Civil Air Patrol. This text book was prepared for the CAP Cadet training program and designed for use in secondary schools. An "Instructor's Manual" by G. P. Cahoon, and J. S. Richardson was also published under the direction of the Civil Air Patrol to be used in conjunction with the "Aviation Study Manual".

These manuals outline a one-year course of air-age instruction for use in the CAP - high school coordinated program taught by regular members of the school faculty, and a two-year course for use at CAP squadron or flight level taught by CAP and Air Force Reserve personnel serving as instructors. Any student is eligible to participate in the high school course of instruction, and CAP Cadet membership, though desirable, is not necessary.

The Courses consist of the following:

Unit	Title	1 Year Course (High Schools)	2 Year Course (CAP Units)		Unit	Title	1 Year Course (High School)	2 Year Course (CAP Units)
			1st yr	2nd yr				1st yr	2nd yr

The number of high schools participating and their student enrollment is as follows:

Fall Semester, 1949 - 89 high schools - 2,780 students; Spring Semester, 1950 - 119 high schools - 3,531 students

CIVIL RELIEF TYPE OPERATIONS

OPERATION "VITTLES"

The Berlin airlift began on 26 June 1948, when the suspension of Western zone Berlin traffic virtually created in the Western sectors of Berlin an allied island in the Soviet Occupation Zone. The surface blockade permitted official access only by air through three corridors extending from Berlin toward Hamburg and Hanover in the British zone and Frankfort-au-Main in the American zone. It was through these narrow air lanes that, on 26 June 1948, the Western nations initiated an airlift, not only to supply the Allied agencies of Western Berlin, but also to furnish for the German population of the Western sectors, some 2,500,000 people, minimum daily needs in sustenance and fuel.

This report is a continuation of the statistical summary of the Operation as presented in USAF Statistical Digest (Volume I) for 1948.

As of 12 May 1949, by inter-government agreement, the blockade of Berlin was lifted. This presentation covers USAF operations only and brings Operation "Vittles" to its conclusion, on 1 September 1949, when the Combined Airlift Task Force was inactivated.

OPERATION "HAYRIDE"

In January 1949 the Western States suffered the severest, most snow-laden winter ever recorded in most of the West, bringing much suffering and death to both humans and animals. There had been incessant cold - temperatures had fallen as low as forty degrees below zero. On the range, feed was buried deep; springs, watering troughs and streams were frozen; ranch houses were isolated, thousands of miles of roads were lost in drifts. Thousands of cattle and sheep lay dead on the frozen barrens and buried on the plateaus and in the snow-choked valleys of the Rocky Mountain States. While herds and flocks of living animals had been without food for weeks.

Thus the stage was set for this great domestic emergency relief operation.

The Air National Guard, Civil Air Patrol and units of the USAF Air Rescue Service had already begun operations, when, on 25 January 1949, the President of the United States designated the snow-bound Western States a disaster area and authorized the use of such resources of the National Military Establishment as were appropriate to the relief of that area. The USAF got into action to help relieve the suffering and reduce the number of animals lost to starvation. The United States Air Force called it "OPERATION HAYRIDE".

Conditions began to improve in all areas after 15 February 1949, and a few aircraft were released. Operation "Hayride" was finally completed 15 March 1949.

The number and type of aircraft committed and the missions accomplished are tabulated in the following pages.
